TROUSSEAU TALKS FOR THE GIRLS

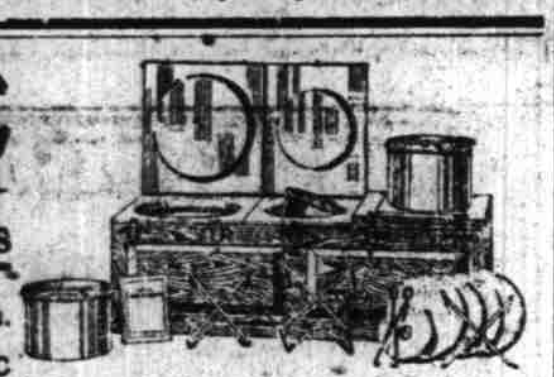

With so many of our girls getting married, the subject of trousseau is one of most absorbing interest. Honolulu girls are noted for their beautiful trousseaus, each bride successfully living up to the reputation of her predecessors. To get a trousseau of this kind in a hurry would mean an enormous expenditure of money. But given plenty of time in which to work, a bountiful supply of energy and enthusiasm, wonders can be accomplished with a comparatively small outlay.

Most girls divide their trousseau in three parts—household linen, lingerie, and outer wearing apparel—and procure their things in that order. Of the three divisions the first and last are really the most absorbing—there is nothing so dear to a girl's heart as her first household linen. Even an unengaged girl becomes enthusiastic on the subject, and makes guest towels and luncheon sets which she secretly puts away in her hope box.

The bride usually commences on towels—the large face towels, the dainty guest towel, and the middle-sized every day towel which is really the most practical, being big enough to be of good service, and small enough to launder easily. She generally leaves the unromantic bath towel for the groom to buy, along with blankets and furniture. Some brides set as many as six dozen towels, two dozen of each kind, though a dozen of the largest, and smallest and two dozen of the medium size is really all that is necessary. The ingenuity of the girl can be shown to best advantage in this line, there being so many novel and pretty ways of getting them up.

The old fashioned cross stitch towel is perhaps the latest fad, though it is not practicable for every day use. A border of Swedish weaving is also very fashionable, while an insertion is made of coronation braid, the loops of which are crocheted together at each end. Of course, all of the linen is marked with an initial, sometimes of the bride's maiden name, but more generally nowadays of the groom's name.

From towels she proceeded to sheets and pillowcases. The lucky maiden gets them of linen, but at ninety-six dollars for a dozen, the average girl cannot buy many. At second best, however, our girl gets fine cotton sheeting, which, with a

MAKIKI PARK NOT APPRECIATED

"How few of our people know that we have a beautiful park, made to order by nature, nearer the postoffice than is Kapiolani Park—containing an area of 560 acres, elevation from 210 feet at the head of Kalia street to 2013 feet at the Tantalus Trig. Sta., not including private holdings," said Allan Herbert this morning.

"It is difficult to describe the beauties of this park but at a future time, I will endeavor to give some idea of its grandeur. Practically all of the Hawaiian flora can be found there, trees and shrubs.

"There is nothing in Japan, where I have traveled extensively, that can compare with this park. In Japan nature has given way to art in beautifying the country with flowers and artificial waterfalls.

"This 560 acres is government reservation."

VERY FINE TOBACCO PRODUCED IN KONA

In a private letter dated Keokea, Kealahou, April 17, W. B. Schrader, manager of the Hawaiian Tobacco Plantation, Ltd., expresses strong faith in the success of the Hawaiian tobacco industry. He begins by saying:

"I have one leaf of tobacco, grown here last year, that weighs 21 grs., or 344 to one pound. One pound would wrap 1376 cigars."

CLEANS THE HAIR AND MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

In a Few Moments Your Hair Looks Soft, Fluffy, Lustrous and Abundant—No Falling Hair or Dandruff

Surely try a "Danderine, Hair Cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—advertisement.

WOMAN'S REMEDY OAHU STUDENTS PREPARING FOR OPERA

Here is a letter that a mayor of a large Eastern city received the other day; it is written by a woman who has more than the average amount of common sense: she is best with a judgment that would be a credit even to a man, superior man. This is what this level-headed woman said to the mayor of her city:

Dear Sir—I have read with interest the recent discussion regarding white slavery and am greatly puzzled that there should be no attempt to get at the root of the matter and regulate the demand for white slaves rather than the supply.

It is generally admitted that neither segregation nor non-segregation affords a solution of the problem of the "unfortunate woman." Then why not try the segregation of those who prey upon her: why not concentrate upon the suppression of the "unfortunate man?" Houses of ill-repute could be watched (I should recommend women police) and patrons could be numbered, registered and photographed for a gallery, to which the public should be allowed free access.

Such men should be forced to submit to a physical examination, and when necessary segregated under the same laws as smallpox patients.

Let us reverse the usual order of proceedings and concentrate upon the redemption of the misguided men, who make so much for human undoing. Let us tear down all sheltering screens and deal with causes, not results.

SPELLING BEE NOW PROPOSED

Misspelling comes high.

Fifty dollars in good coin of Uncle Sam is the price fixed for the discovery of one or more words incorrectly spelled in a little program, to be handed visitors to Ye Liberty theater tonight, Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The Newman company completed plans today for a presentation of $20 in gold to the first person discovering a misspelled word in a program, received at the door. It is stipulated that the correct spelling of the word must accompany the claim for this reward.

Not satisfied with the presentation of a series of the finest photo plays ever displayed here, the Newman company will also offer $15 in gold to the next correct answer, and to the 3d, 4th and 5th correct spelling $5 each will be given.

The romantic Bohemian Girl accompanied by special orchestration is an offering for the first of the week. Three reels of Balfe's famous version is destined to prove a treat to local playgoers. "The Lieutenant's Last Fight," is a second picture, which mainland critics speak of in highest terms.

Who will be the lucky "Honey Girl" in the chorus contest?

Jim Post declines to venture a prediction. Beginning with tonight's performance of "Hot Nights in Hilo," all patrons of Bijou theater will be given a program containing a coupon good for one vote for a favorite young lady, connected with the company of merry makers who are to close a two months' engagement.

The Post production for the first of the week is one of the best in an extended repertoire.

Tuesday evening, local amateurs will add to the fun that is destined to hold full sway on the Bijou stage. Manager Adams promises a number of special stunts on this occasion.

LIEUTENANT IS REAL 'MANCHU'

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, April 21.—The War Department has approved the opinion of the judge advocate general of the army, that the assignment of Lieutenant Livingston Watrous, Twenty-fifth Infantry, stationed at this post, to the command of a detachment of enlisted men, constituted a violation of the detached-service law. Lieutenant Watrous was ordered to command a detachment composed of men of the First and Twenty-fifth Infantry, one from the hospital corps and one from the quartermaster corps. The detachment proceeded by marching to a point in the Koolau Range and was employed in cutting trails for survey parties from the engineers. The detachment was absent on this duty for about a month. Lieutenant Watrous at the time of the assignment had been in the army less than two years. The detachment he commanded was composed of a portion of the company with which he was serving.

It is held that the service was detached service because the detachment was composed of men from various organizations. Lieutenant Watrous is not held to be exempt on account of less than two years' service, because the law says "any officer holding permanent commission, etc. He further was not entitled to be assigned to detached duty, as he had not been actually "present for duty for at least two of the preceding six years." The penalty under the law as passed by congress last August, for assigning Lieutenant Watrous to this duty, must be paid by his superior officer, who was responsible for the assignment. In other words, the superior officer will have to forfeit to the government the amount of pay that Lieutenant Watrous drew for the time he was on this duty. The judge advocate calls attention to the fact that this trouble could have been avoided if paragraph 376 of the Army Regulations had been complied with and the detachment taken from the Twenty-fifth Infantry. Lieutenant Watrous' own regiment. The purport of this paragraph is that except when the exigencies of the service require, all detachments for any duty will be taken from the same battalion, company or platoon of the same organization.

COOKE TO MAKE MERRY BONFIRE

In connection with the monthly land concert at Liliuokalani schoolhouse, Kaimuki, tonight, A. Frank Cooke will light a huge bonfire on the summit of Wilhelmina Rise, which will illuminate the entire region and make a gorgeous sight from both town and ocean. It will not be surprising if passengers in the Honolulu hundreds of miles away at the time see the reflection and imagine an unusual volcanic eruption is taking place. Mr. Cooke has been cutting and piling brush for the blaze for many days past, and has obtained the permission of the authorities to apply the torch to the pile. Following is the band program:
